Big Cleveland Robbery Foiled Is Belief---Gangster Escapes

CLEVELAND, Jan. 25.—(AP)—A police probe was ordered today after Deputy Police Inspector James McArthur said negligence had allowed a notorious Purple Gang mobster to slip away.

McArthur said he had been informed that Sam Norbert, 40, wanted in Detroit for robbery, had escaped capture because police failed to establish a detail at an apartment here.

The head of the Purple Gang, Harry Fleischer, was picked up in Miami Beach last week.

Search for Norbert shifted here yesterday after police received a tip that he was hiding in the apartment. Police raided the apartment, but left after failing to find Norbert.

Inspector McArthur said he had since learned the gangster later returned to the apartment and disappeared without police interference.

Norbert was reported to have told the custodian to "clean up the place" and that he was shoving off.

Seven new grey twill uniforms, similar to those worn by railroad detectives, plant guards or Brink's money guards were seized in the suite.

Detectives at first said seven men had fled from the apartment and they "definitely" had been planning a Brink's holdup here similar to that staged in Boston.

McArthur discounted this, however. He said the apartment apparently had been used by a gang of small time hoodlums and "cheap burglars" as a headquarters.

"This was no plot to stage a robbery of the Cleveland Brink's trucks and offices," he reported flatly.

He charged that several detectives on the force "were more interested in publicity" than in performing their duties.

He said the uniforms found probably were taken in a robbery. (Please Turn To Page Two)

More Hospitals Contracts Let

Board Acknowledges Two New Donations

Additional contracts for equipment to the amount of approximately $4,200 for the Fayette County Memorial Hospital were awarded by the hospital board in charge of construction and equipment, at a meeting Tuesday night in the temporary business office of the hospital on South Main Street.

The Monarch Equipment Company of Cleveland was given a contract for kitchen equipment totalling $1,491.10. Other equipment in this department will be purchased soon.

The Harry L. Morgan Company of Columbus was awarded a contract for certain special furnishings for some departments of the institution, amounting to $1,497.51 and an additional contract for other furnishings to the amount of $1,196.80.

Additional Gifts Received

The board announced that it had gratefully received two fine contributions. One for $1,000 from the National Cash Register Company and another from Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Woodmansee who have purchased a fine metabolism equipment which will be installed in the hospital and become the property of the institution.

It was stated by the board that the time for additional contributions on equipment is now limited owing to the fact that memorial plaques announcing the names of all donors, are in the process of being ordered. The board states it will be happy to receive any additional donations soon in order that such contributions can be given proper recognition.

Dr. J. H. Persinger and Dr. James E. Rose, the committee representing the Fayette County Medical Society, were present at the session. The board reported that the doctors had expressed complete approval of the hospital equipment ordered to date.

Members of the board present were President Ralph Nisley, Secretary George Pensyl and Colin Campbell. O. D. Farquhar, clerk of the board, and Miss Christine Evans, consultant and administrator, also attended.

Wage Law Goes into Effect But Won't Be Noticeable Here

The new 75-cent minimum wage law went into effect across the country today, but it was not expected to make more than a ripple on the surface of business in Washington C. H. or Fayette County.

The new law is applicable only to workers who produce for interstate trade, and they are comparatively few here. Besides, a spot check of industries here, showed most employees here either already were above the minimum wage level or were on piece work and not affected by the new regulation.

The new law is applicable only to workers who produce for interstate trade, and they are comparatively few here. Besides, a spot check of industries here, showed most employees here either already were above the minimum wage level or were on piece work and not affected by the new regulation.

The new wage minimum, nearly double the previous 40-cent an hour floor, is estimated to require a wage boost averaging between five and 15 cents an hour for about 1,500,000 workers. The cost to employers is estimated at about $300,000,000 a year.

President Truman said the new law was "dictated by social justice" and will add to the nation's economic strength.

He said in a statement yesterday that the original law "added to the purchasing power to our low-paid workers and, by encouraging the spreading of work, put more people on payrolls." He forecast "great and lasting benefits" from the new law.

Labor organizations cheered the higher minimum, too. The CIO called for early consideration of a $1 an hour minimum, and broadened coverage of workers.

The new law is actually a compromise result of a long fight in Congress. It boosted the wage minimum but did not include some of the workers labor wanted covered. It also simplified some provisions of the old law.

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—(AP)—The biggest boom in the history of the Australian wool industry is in full swing. And since Australia is the world's largest producer of fine apparel wool, this isn't going to help America's clothing budget.

The price of fine apparel wools at the current Australian auctions mounts steadily. Records are being smashed daily.

The Nation Today

BY JAMES J. STREIBIG
Associated Press Aviation Reporter
(For James Marlow)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—(AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) forecast in 1945 that in ten years this nation would be flying 400,000 civil airplanes.

The CAA was a bit apologetic. The forecast, it said, was "by no means a top limit" but rather a "conservative guide for planning."

The agency was well aware that other surveys made at the height of wartime enthusiasm for flying found 1,000,000 and upwards as the potential number of private planes shortly after the war.

Half of the 10-year period has passed. About 92,000 civil aircraft are registered with the CAA. Production of private planes was a spectacular 35,000 in 1946—a one-year output 40 per cent greater than the total flying in 1939.

That production was halved in 1947. It was halved again in 1948. It was halved a third time in 1949, dropping to less than one-tenth 1946 production.

Has interest in flying fallen so rapidly? Other aviation figures show it has not. Air travel by commercial and private plane has increased tremendously since the war. Use of small airplanes for numerous jobs formerly done on the ground—crop spraying and dusting, inspection of pipelines and power lines, surveys and even crop planting—has created new industries.

Post-war disillusionment was not for those who saw in wartime development of aviation a new tool. It was for those who saw the airplane as a toy.

Well, it isn't quite that simple either. Much of the disappointment came from the industry itself, from overselling the private flying idea, from failing to produce planes with the safety, economy and usefulness the nation had come to expect, from plain gouging of customers.

Some people still say that anyone who can drive an automobile can pilot an airplane. It just isn't so.

Some people still say you can operate airplanes for less money or at least no more than an automobile. And that isn't so.

The enthusiasts who went out to learn to fly around found it required more skill than driving an automobile. They found it a much more closely regulated pastime. They found it a lot more costly.

You can buy any of several makes of automobiles for less than the lowest price airplane—a single seater. Few automobiles cost as much as the lowest priced four-seat airplane. You can buy half a dozen automobiles for what one of the more expensive four-seat airplanes costs.

You can't park your airplane on the street. You'd better hangar it (about $30 a month) if you can find space. At least you have to tie it down in the open (about $15 a month). The chances are it came without a radio. You can add $100 to $700 for that. And if you want pretty complete insurance protection, you must figure on $40 to $60 a month. After that it's just gasoline, oil and maintenance.

More Than 2,124 Dog Licenses Issued Here

Ulrice Acton, county auditor, said today that his office had issued 2,124 dog licenses to owners in this county this year. This figure is under the total number of licenses issued in 1949—2,600 licenses. There was a last minute rush to obtain the licenses last week. But many of the owners still have failed to obtain their tags.

Club Session An American Legion Event

State Commander
Principal Speaker
At Rotary Meet

The program of the Washington Rotary Club at its Tuesday luncheon at the Country Club was interestingly made an American Legion event.

Attorney Charles S. Hire, commander of Paul H. Hughey Post No. 25 here, and nine past commanders, were present with Bruce P. Henderson, of Warren, state commander of the Department of the American Legion of Ohio, who made the principle address at the meeting.

An outstanding event of the club session was the presentation of an American flag from the Hughey Post here to the Rotary Club. Commander Hire tendered the flag in a brief but remarkably impressive talk. President Paul Pennington accepted and tendered the club's cordial thanks and gratitude for the Legion's thoughtful act, declaring it will "hold a high place in our esteem and hearts."

Past commanders of the Hughey Post who were introduced were: Harold Craig, Jess H. Maddux, Emmet Passmore, Walter Hutton, Robert Jefferson, Charles Morgan, Howard Fogle, Rell G. Allen and Herbert E. Wilson.

Introduced by Herbert E. Wilson, State Commander Henderson made a forceful talk in which he outlined the objectives of the American Legion and made a special plea that the American people, in spite of the urge for national economy, never forget the debt we owe to our veterans of past wars and especially those, and their families who suffered death or serious injuries. He pointed out the particular great need to care for those who required rehabilitation.

Objects To Changes

During his address Henderson called attention to the fact that the American Legion and other veterans recognized the need for national economy and opposed vigorously the trend toward spending ourselves into bankruptcy with the attendant threat of turning toward Communism or some bad form of Socialism. He asserted, however, that certain of the recommendations made by the Hoover Commission for changing the present Veterans' Administration and dividing its authority among certain other present departments of government, could only lead to loss of efficiency and less attention to the actual wants and needs of veterans and their families.

He stated that under the original setup by President Herbert Hoover, the organization of Veterans in this country was in a fair way to accomplish what was needed in well planned administration. Changes in the Veterans' Administration plans now can only lead to political maneuvering which may weaken the efforts to properly take care of veterans affairs. More efficiency will be attained as the years go by in keeping our present national setup intact for veterans and permitting them to iron out the errors and weak spots, which veterans are trying to do now, than by dividing this authority under other departments of government, he said.

President Paul Pennington responded to Commander Henderson's talk and praised him for his message.

son's talk and praised him for his message.

Changes in Membership

During the Rotary business session President Pennington called attention to the fact that one faithful local member of the club, Ora Middleton is soon to leave this city to take up new duties for his company at Crawfordsville, Indiana, and expressed the club's regret at his leaving and best wishes for his success in his new field. Middleton responded by stating that he regarded this community as a wonderful place in which to have a home, that he sincerely regretted leaving here and thanking the club for his privilege of having a part in its activities.

Three new members were welcomed into the club here. They were Joe Peterson, Edmond Woodmansee and Condon Campbell. Membership pins and a brief talk on club responsibilities were given the incoming members by President Pennington.

Dick Hodgson, the new Junior Rotarian, was introduced by Webster French and Norman Burris, outgoing Junior, thanked the club for having been a member for the past two weeks.

1950 PTA Meet Is Slated in Dayton

Dayton has been selected to be the host city of the 45th annual convention of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers set for October 11-13.

The theme for the three-day meeting will be "New Visions for New Horizons," which will be discussed in all its phases by nationally-known speakers.

Delegates, representing Ohio's total membership of approximately 380,000, will make the Dayton Biltmore Hotel their headquarters.

Delegates from Fayette County's PTA groups will not be known for some time yet. According to Mrs. Emmett Backenstoe, city PTA council president, the PTA presidents have traditionally been the delegates to the convention. But, since the new election of officers is not held until the final meeting of the school year, the delegates will not be known until April or May, she added.

Mrs. Backenstoe said she believed it was the first time Dayton had been picked for the convention site. Heretofore, the Congress had met in Cincinnati, Cleveland or Columbus. The 1950 gathering-place will be welcomed by Fayette Countians for its convenience.

Will Truman Invoke Taft-Hartley Act?

President Truman's obstinacy in refusing to call upon the means placed at his disposal by the Taft-Hartley Act for meeting strikes is one of the tragic evidences of his political schooling. With supplies of coal on the docks on New England reportedly sufficient for only three to five days, and with an important railroad in that area announcing an impending shut-down for lack of fuel, the president was asked to intervene.

Mr. Truman's reply was that "the time has not yet arrived" for action on his part. He wanted to be sure that he can satisfy a federal court that "a national emergency exists." If this means that no action can be taken by the president under such circumstances until our entire industrial machinery is out of commission, or the health and safety of all our people are threatened, it is one of the most incredible mis-readings of legislative intent in all history.

The Taft-Hartley Act was passed to prevent such occurrences, not to correct them. It is the spirit and the purpose of this law to set a point beyond which neither side to a dispute involving our economy can proceed without direct and effective immediate intervention by the government as the people's representative. What the president is doing is simply to emasculate the law and render it meaningless because he refuses stubbornly to recognize that there is intrinsic merit and wisdom in the measure he has asked the Congress to repeal. We predict that the act will outlast the president.

Auto Safety Ideas

What do automobile manufacturers have against the occupants of front seats? State Senator Thomas C. Desmond of Newburgh, N. Y., has drafted a bill that would require cars built after Jan. 1, 1952, to have dashboards covered with composition rubber or some similar material. The metallic construction of dashboards and the glass in windshields make it almost certain that in case of a bad crash riders on the front seats will be either badly hurt or killed. One or two manufacturers have thought of this, but it is strange that so little serious effort has been made in the industry as a whole to reduce these special hazards to front seat passengers.

Senator Desmond has another idea. He would require tests for driving licenses to take place at night. This would show up those motorists who are easily blinded or confused by approaching lights or have poor night vision.

The safety problems created by the automobile are so complex that many factors working together will be necessary to relieve them. The Desmond suggestions look like progressive steps to longer life.

Women's Job

"We cannot make democracy work until women carry their full share of responsibility," says Mrs. Olive Remington Goldman, recently nominated by President Truman to be United States representative on the Commission on the Status of Women of the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

The goal of the Commission "is concerned with the political and economic rights and general welfare of the women of the world," said Mrs. Goldman. It deals with such matters as nationality rights for married women, their legal rights, and equal pay for equal work. Holding the theory that the nucleus of a peaceful world is happy family life, Mrs. Goldman would put responsibility for that in the hands of women.

Few women have such an opportunity as Mrs. Goldman's for wielding obvious influence. Many busy wives and mothers do, however, in addition to their home duties, carry outside responsibility in school, civic, and community organizations. World peace, if and when it is achieved, will prove to be the sum of all such attempts, great and small, to work together for the common good.

Diet and Health

Goiter Operation Sometimes Needed

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THOUGH toxic goiter can often be treated medically, operation is required in many instances. In such cases, surgeon and physician cooperate to plan treatment, since hazards of operation are best warded off by proper care before and after operation.

In toxic goiter there is an excessive secretion from the thyroid gland which speeds up all bodily processes and results in such symptoms as loss of weight and strength, nervousness, rapid heart-beat, sweating, and sleeplessness.

Replace Fluids

Naturally, a patient in this condition is not likely to withstand operation well. Treatment is aimed at getting him to the point where he can. It is suggested that the patient have at least three quarts of fluid a day in order to replace the fluids lost through diarrhea, vomiting, and sweating. If he cannot take enough fluids by mouth, a dextrose or sugar solution may be injected into a vein. It may also be advisable to give the patient whole blood in the same way.

Prior to operation, it is also helpful for the patient to have extra food, since in this condition the chemical processes of the body are going on at increased rate and food materials are used up more rapidly. Tea, coffee, and alcohol are forbidden.

Often these patients have a disturbed liver action which may be improved with a diet rich in protein, starchy foods and sweets, but low in fats. It is also suggested that the patient receive plenty of vitamin B-complex and vitamin C.

Before Operation

For ten days to three weeks before the operation, the patient is given a solution of iodine known as Lugol's solution, in the proper dose. Another preparation, known as propylthiouracil, is needed in about one out of ten cases in order to help lower the metabolic rate. After the operation, the patient is kept in a semi-sitting position in bed and given the proper preparations to relieve pain and produce sleep. He is also given fluids by injection into the rectum or lower bowel. This injected fluid, it is suggested, should contain some iodine in the form of Lugol's solution. Later on, the iodine may be given in fruit juice three times a day.

On the second day following operation, the patient begins to take liquid foods. Soft foods are allowed on the third day, and thereafter a diet rich in protein, starchy foods, and sweets is used. The iodine solution is continued for when the metabolism rate returns to normal.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. M.: Is cystitis caused by diabetes? What are the symptoms of cystitis?

Answer: Cystitis means inflammation of the bladder. It is not caused by diabetes. It is due to infection in most cases.

The symptoms consist of pain on emptying the bladder and frequent emptying of the bladder. A thorough examination of the urine will help in making a diagnosis.

Child's Molester Rescued from Mob

MANCHESTER, Conn., Jan. 25.—(AP)—A lone, gun-wielding policeman last night rescued a suspected child molester from an angry mob of 50 persons.

The suspect, mauled by the crowd before the rescue, was identified by Police Captain William Barron as Bernard J. Goodin, 25-year-old father of two children and a bakery worker.

Goodin today is under $5,000 bail pending arraignment on a charge of "rape of a minor female." The child was not identified.

Vanishing Master Glass Blower

By Hal Boyle

CORNING, N. Y., (AP)—America is full of all kinds of gaffers, but it has only a dozen or so like James E. Janson.

A "gaffer" is a master glass blower, and he is a vanishing type. For glassmaking, like most industries, has become heavily mechanized. In the sprawling Corning glass works here machines have been developed that stamp out 37,000 different glass products for home, factory and laboratory use.

But in one corner a half-dozen old-time gaffers still turn out exquisite pieces of hand-made Steuben glassware, that sell anywhere from $20 to $1,000.

They are the aristocrats of an ancient art, and Janson — the workers call him "Johnny" — is one of the best.

"I have been working with glass for 55 years now," said Johnny, who is 69. Like most expert glassblowers he is Swedish. He came to this country in 1901.

The gaffer bosses a shop of five or six men. Two or three bit gaffers collect molten glass on long iron blow pipes. The stervator fashions the base and stem from the red hot glass, and the gaffer then takes over.

Seated on a bench, he shapes and finishes the glass, adding handles or decorative features with a pair of long applewood pincers. This requires artistry as well as top craftsmanship — for the gaffer must have an absolute sense of form. And he has to work speedily.

I asked Janson how long it had taken him to learn his craft. "A lifetime," he said. I started learning as a boy from my father, who was a glass blower. But you never stop learning. We learn something everyday."

All glass used to be made by hand. Then it was blown into molds. Then machinery took over most of the work.

"But hand-made glass will never die out," said Johnny.

"They will always find someone to make it."

The company he is employed by hasn't found it easy. A few years ago they sent scouts through the West Virginia mountains, searching for experienced gaffers in small glassworks there. They couldn't find any. Now the company is trying to train native American boys in the craft.

"It is like playing the violin," said Johnny. "Some can get farther along with it than others. But I am entitled to green pastures soon—like an old horse. I hope to retire next summer. I have a lot of fishing to do."

Johnny's interest in glass working doesn't stop when his day at the factory is done. He built himself, a small experimental furnace in a basement workshop. There he works out new patterns in glass for his own pleasure. He has them all over the house.

And his eyes shine with delight as he shows them. His wife takes this hobby with some reservation.

"He loves his work," she smiled. "That's all there is to it. Glass doesn't mean so much to me—I hear too much about it."

Uncertainties of Natural Rubber

By George E. Sokolsky

I received in the mail a publicity notice announcing the launching of a national publicity program by the "Natural Rubber Bureau," which is beginning a "major advertising campaign in support of natural rubber."

Frankly, and more conscientiously than usual, the bureau says that the campaign is "backed by the rubber growers of Malaya, Ceylon, and French Indo-China, acting through the British Rubber Development Board, of London."

The British are fully within their rights to push the use of natural rubber, but Americans ought never to forget that when World War II came upon us, we found ourselves cut off from the rubber-growing countries: that at huge cost to the American taxpayer at a moment of national peril, this country had to create a synthetic rubber industry; that that industry exists and that the British have been trying to get us, since 1945, to abandon it to our detriment.

but for their benefit.

Furthermore, it needs to be pointed out that all these rubber growing areas are now in peril of communist infiltration out of China. For instance, there can be no guarantees by Great Britain that she can hold, without our military intervention, the Malay Peninsula. The city of Singapore is as much Chinese as Malay and its Chinese inhabitants have a traditional affiliation with Canton which is now held by the Chinese communists. Singapore is the heart of the natural rubber industry. Sumatra and Java are now part of the Indonesian Republic which seems, for the moment, to have settled down to peace, but the fate of the Republic depends on events on the mainland, particularly on the Malay Peninsula.

Although Ceylon is not on the mainland, its affiliations with India are strong and Pandit Nehru has shown little affection for the United States, and we do not yet know where we stand. Neutrality is not in our interest.

This is no time to abandon our synthetic rubber industry to aid British colonial and commercial interests. In fact, our experience with Great Britain, with regard to rubber, has been consistently unfortunate.

At the close of World War I, the control of rubber production was approximately 75 per cent British and 25 per cent Dutch, but the largest consumer was the United States, which took around 70 per cent of the exports. The British then imposed the Stevenson Restriction Plan, after the British rubber growers association had appealed to their government for aid. This Stevenson Plan involved direct government intervention for the control of production and price and was aimed at forcing the price of rubber from about 12 cents a pound to about $1.25 a pound—the American consumer carrying the load. This plan remained in operation six years. (1922-1928).

The United States licked the Stevenson Plan by two devices: by increasing the use of reclaimed rubber and by the organization of the American Rubber Buying Pool, consisting of United States Rubber, Goodyear, Goodrich and Firestone, who were given a credit of $40,000,000 to start plantations of their own. Then the British backed down.

When World War II appeared, the Japanese cut off our rubber supply. President Roosevelt appointed Bernard Baruch to plan a synthetic rubber industry. Had we failed in this enterprise, not a plane, not a motorized weapon, not an automobile would have rolled. We could have lost the war for lack of rubber.

Henry Wallace proposed that we give up our synthetic rubber as soon as possible to help the Malays, Indonesians and others and we laughed at him. But Wallace's ideas have a way of turning up again in other men's mouths.

The State Department is working on a Little Marshall Plan for Asia—which is already too little and too late. In connection with this, a conference of British Empire countries has been held in Colombo on the island of Ceylon. Immediately, we get repercussions about rubber and the central idea is to abandon the American synthetic rubber industry. Once we abandon that, we again become absolutely dependent upon the British for rubber—a dependence which failed us after World War I and nearly strangled us during World War II.

This is something that must be watched closely. It has the makings of a major catastrophe.

ONE of three Russian fishing ships reported to have appeared in the Caribbean area, where the U.S. will stage military maneuvers soon, the Chiraka is shown going through the Panama Canal. She was headed from the Baltic to the north Pacific. Recent rumors told of Soviet ships, equipped with powerful radios, being seen in the "war games" section. (International Soundphoto)

WHS Student Drivers Complete Rigid Test

"Simulate a 300-mile trip." This was the final examination that Instructor Arthur Engle gave to about two dozen WHS pupils who completed the driver's training course Friday afternoon.

Many a veteran driver would flunk the rigid examination that WHS students have to pass to receive the certificates of proficiency, that will be awarded graduates of the course Thursday.

After 12 classroom hours and 24 hours in the car, six of which are spent behind the wheel, the student is tested on 128 items in the final examination.

Final Exam Is Tough
The actual exam requires the student to cover seven miles in a trip lasting 45 minutes, during which he is under the constant observation of Engle, who checks the slightest errors.

In fact, the training of the course is so thorough and realistic that the state highway patrol authorizes the issuance of a license upon successful completion of the course. No extra test is required.

But the real value of the course comes later—in increased safety on the highways for everyone.

In the preface to "Sportsman-like Driving," the 400-page text used in the course, it is pointed out that "In World War II, 1,070,000 Americans were wounded, killed or reported missing in action."

In a sobering comparison, the American Automobile Association textbook adds that "3,300,000 civilians lost their lives or were injured in the same period in automobile accidents."

"To my knowledge," said Engle, "no graduate of the driver's training course here has ever been involved in a major accident." The WHS driver's training course is now completing its second year.

"In California, this course is a requirement for high school graduation," Engle said. "And I hope the time will come when it will be required here." The course is offered in about 6,000 or 7,000 high schools in the U. S., he added.

At the present time it is elective and the need for the course must be felt and wanted. Arthur Wohlfers principal at WHS recently disclosed: "54 boys and girls have applied to take the course in the semester beginning Monday."

But there's only room for about 24 to 27 students, he added. Applicants for the course are selected by age and grade.

The only requirements for students taking the course are a minimum age of 16, a learner's permit and, for insurance purposes, the written permission of his parents.

Girls Outscore Boys
What would Engle's ideal student be like?

The ideal student for the driver's training course would be a 16-year old girl.

"A check of the scores of those who have taken this course in the past reveals that girls score higher than boys and 16-year old girls got the highest scores," said Engle.

The reason? Engle says it's because they usually have not driven before and are more open-minded to instruction. "I would rather that the student had not driven before starting this course," Engle said, "because bad habits are hard to break."

"The boys do not do as well as the girls for a number of reasons," Engle added. "In general, they are too confident. Many of them have had driving experience and they think they know it all. They've also developed bad habits which are difficult to break."

Engle usually takes four students in a car at a time for driving lessons. Each student is required to put in 18 hours of ob-

Vacancy Still Exists, Health Board States

Like to work with children—help them lead healthy lives?

Well, if you're a registered nurse and have access to an automobile, the county health department may have a job for you.

The position of staff nurse on the Health Board was left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. James Cooper last December 1. Her desk at the Health Board's office in the courthouse has been vacant ever since.

As for experience, it would be preferable if you have had public health training in your background, but this requirement isn't absolutely necessary.

Your duties, according to Miss Gretchen Darlington, head nurse, will involve home and school visiting.

To give you an idea of where much of your work will take you, the schools in your area include Bloomingburg, Yatesville, East-side, Madison Mills, Marion and Central.

At the present time the staff of the Health Department includes just two nurses, Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. Joseph Colegrove.

The full staff includes in addition to the staff nurses, Dr. Gordon E. Savage, county health commissioner, Donald Lee Lange, sanitarian, Miss Lillie Henkle, secretary and Mrs. Josephine Maggi, student nurse.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—(AP)—The Treasury Department is eyeing even more closely the income tax returns of individuals making between $7,000 and $25,000 a year.

It plans to crack down on tax evaders in this group if Congress will put up the money for additional enforcement agents.

The plan turned up in testimony made public yesterday by the House Appropriations Committee. The committee was told by T. C. Atkeson, assistant internal revenue collector, that the middle-income group makes numerous "errors" in computing tax liability.

Browning Club Members Hear Excellent Paper Given by Mrs. Charles Fults

The regular meeting of the Browning Club was held Tuesday evening in the American Legion Hall. Mrs. Emerson Chapman, president presided and the chairman for the evening's program was Mrs. Tranquillo Del Ponte and the program opened under the direction of Miss Sally Keck. The first number was a well given musical reading entitled "Gypsy Song" by Misses Becky Armbrust and Dixie DeWeese, accompanied by Miss Mary Sue Belles. This was followed with Fred Waring's arrangement of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" by the Washington High School Ensemble directed by Mr. William Bowman, accompanied by Miss Helen Hynes and Miss Jeanne Scholl. Interpretation of the play "Anne Rutledge" by Miss Sally Keck, who characterized the several parts was delightfully given and a group of Dialect Poems entitled "Perishing at the Front", "Skater of Ghost Lake" and "Little Brown Baby" were given by LaVera Johnson.

The only paper of the evening entitled "The Plight of the American Indian Today" by Mrs. Charles Fults, was most interestingly given to an appreciative audience and she said in part:

The wave of white people which flowed from the Atlantic to the Pacific in the discovery, expansion, and settlement of America, the movements and seeking for more fertile land, more gold and greater fortunes, drove the aboriginal population of America to the poorest land, wiped out or deprived them of their mode and means of living and left them to adjust themselves, in whatever way they could, to a new order of life. A minority to be treated with the same scorn, the same dogmatic intolerance, even the same cruelties, that some minority groups are enduring in a war-torn world today. The Indian was doomed by a new white world whose government fashioned laws toward this end—a once colorful and noble race reduced to poverty, disease, and a state of inferiority.

Many people today are still under the impression that the Indian race is a dying one. Tourists see a few pitiful Indians selling cheap curios or visit resorts where Indians are performing "old war dances" for entertainment, and believe these to be the last representatives of characters they once read of in adventure books. This is not true—the Indians are increasing, in fact, they have increased so rapidly in the last eight years that the birth rate among them is almost twice that of the U. S. white population as a whole.

When Columbus touched the shores of the New World, he found 846,000 Indians living between the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts, all engaged in hunting, fishing and agriculture. But their darkest days were ahead of them for they were driven from place to place.

When colonizers from Europe arrived on their shores, they swarmed over the lands of the Indians, destroying their source of food supply and sheltering forests. The Indians rose in retaliation, but their bows and arrows were helpless against the steel weapons and gunpowder of the white man.

A far greater cause of death among the Indians than war was the ravages of disease brought into the country. The result of all these destructive forces—war, disease, liquor, starvation and loss of land greatly diminished the Indian population.

The United States shelters the descendants of many peoples, of all creeds and colors yet the Indians are officially discriminated against by our government because of their race.

A congressional committee has suggested the following program to aid the Indians: 1—Congress should enact legislation to close the Indian office by 1958. 2—Abandon federal control of Indian reservations. 3—Grant Indians all rights of citizenship. In New Mexico and Arizona they are denied the right to vote, while others allow but do not encourage voting. 4—Transfer Indian education to the states. 5—Assist Indians to become self-supporting. Full citizenship and equal opportunity for these peoples constitute a pressing obligation of all Americans and their government.

The Navajo is considered our greatest tribe of Indians. For 20 years, the Indian Service has known there were not enough schools or hospitals for the Navajo population, yet never has it made a real attempt to secure from Congress the necessary appropriations. Today the food intake of the average Navajo is several hundred calories below that of the Germans in territories we occupy. The Navajos are not idle through choice but they are ignorant, underfed, and diseased and cannot compete in the labor fields. Congress now has a program under consideration which contemplates large-scale medical assistance, building and staffing of schools, also resources to help starvation conditions.

Junior Group Of D. A. R. Meets At Rankin Home

Mrs. Richard Rankin and Mrs. Gilbert Kidner were hostesses to the Martha Washington Junior Group of the Washington Court House Daughters of the American Revolution at the home of Mrs. Rankin for the regular January meeting, with twelve members present.

Mrs. Charles Gallagher, chairman, presided over the business session, during which the regular reports were heard and accepted and special reports of Thanksgiving and Christmas charities were also given. A substantial contribution to the March of Dimes was made.

The preparing up of the yearly reports included donations to the several D.A.R. projects. Mrs. Quincy Cheadle was cordially welcomed as a new member, to complete the business session.

A pleasant social hour was enjoyed and tempting refreshments were served by the hostesses and later the members sewed on an elaborate wardrobe for a doll which is to be used in a special project of the group.

Cherokees in cities and on good ranches, businessmen, politicians, professional men—and you will also find in the backwoods the same Cherokees barely able to speak English and trying to survive on a per capita income of $34 a year.

A recent survey shows that now most Indian families live in permanent homes. In the southwest, the Pueblo Indians build their houses of blocks of sandstone or adobe. The Papago and Pima Indians of Southern Arizona also build their homes of adobe. The Navajos build their homes in dome shapes and rather low with a hole in the top for smoke to escape. A blanket or wooden door always faces east. The homes of the Kickapoo Indians in Oklahoma are oval shaped or wigwams tied together forming a framework. Mats of reeds cover these. The floors of all these homes are dirt, and beds are made on the floor.

Disease flourishes among these people because of cramped conditions and improper sewage or garbage disposal. Most prevalent among the Indian diseases are tuberculosis, pneumonia and typhoid. Today the medicine man is still present among many tribes—he is not discouraged because he is part of the Indian religion.

The Papago tribes have become very progressive since the second war during which time more than 400 of them served. Since their contact with the outside world, they have appealed for and received aid from the government to improve their lands, education, medical care, and other necessities of living.

The plight of the Indian is very serious and if in any way we can help to improve the school systems and medical centers for these people we must do all that is possible. Mrs. Fults' paper brought the many deplorable facts of the American Indian tribes to the attention of club members, many of which were not acquainted with their plight.

A short business meeting followed conducted by Mrs. Chapman. Announcement was made that the date of April 24 was set aside for the Browning Club banquet and a liberal contribution made to the March of Dimes.

Woman Is Mangled By Mother Tiger

BURBANK, Calif., Jan. 25—(AP)—Surgeons believe that diminutive Mabel Stark, famed as a wild animal trainer for some 40 years, won't lose her right arm, mangled by a powerful tigress.

The 115-pound tiger trainer was bitten as she attempted to lift a three-month-old cub from its mother's cage at the World Jungle Compound, Thousand Oaks, Calif., yesterday. The mother, seven-year-old Pasha, rushed at Miss Stark and gripped her arm.

Hospital attendants say she is "getting along as well as could be expected" and that her condition is serious but not critical. They say doctors don't believe she will lose her arm.

Independent League Planned Here Now; Four Teams Lined Up

Cage fans hereabouts may get a chance to see a few of their old court stars in action again.

Plans are in the works for a four-team basketball league in Washington C. H.

The players have been ready and waiting a long time. The teams are all but organized and Coach Fred Pierson has consented to coordinate the activities.

What's everybody waiting for? Why, a place to play.

It seems that the WHS gym is out because of high cost of rental and the Armory was signed up last fall for most of the nights of the week.

However, there's a slight possibility of arrangements being made to squeeze the league into the Armory's busy schedule.

Captain Darrell Williams said he was in favor of the league and would look into the matter to see if there was some way of giving the league a chance to use the floor.

At the present time, the American Legion's athletic committee has indicated a willingness to enter the competition. Francis Morgan said the Legion would be able to whip a team together pretty quickly.

A couple of players on Company "M's" squad said they were sure that their team would be very interested and the VFW is being contacted about entering a team.

The fourth club has been organized under an independent banner and will include such familiar names as Clyde Helsing, Dick Andrews, Bob Summers and other well-known prospects.

Lions Drilled On Zone For London Battle

The WHS Lions will carry a stepped-up attack against the Raiders at London Friday night.

Coach Steve Lewis held a brief skull session with his boys Tuesday afternoon to go over the biggest flaws in their play against Columbus West.

The platoons were then put through a scrimmage in an attempt to correct their shortcomings and sharpen up other points in their play that have recently shown up to advantage.

In the scrimmage, Lewis concentrated on having his Lions pick up their men beyond the ten-second line. Falling into position after shots to get possession on the rebounds was another weakness that received a lot of attention.

Lions Work on Zone

The Lion squads set up zone defense and worked against each other, the one to penetrate while the other to stop the offensive attack.

Lewis is also trying to improve the coordination of a few of the players. A couple tend to slide their feet as they try to fake a pass to take a shot and the same thing happens when they start a pass and then cut. The result is that a pass or cut is telegraphed and the ball is lost as a consequence.

The Reserves also concentrated on a zone defense, which is a wise switch for the small London floor.

Coach Ron Guinn also drilled his boys on shots from the areas most vulnerable in a zone after a pass play draws the opponents out of position.

Jim Thorpe Is Greatest

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25—(AP)—Fate hasn't always been kind to Jim Thorpe but you never would guess it talking with the greatest football player of them all.

The 61-year old Sac and Fox Indian, voted by 391 of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters as the No. 1 gridiron performer of the last 50 years, prefers to think only of the high spots in an athletic career that started at Carlisle Institute in 1907.

His football exploits for the Pennsylvania Indian school twice made him a member of Walter Camp's all-American teams. And the memory of those deeds brought him 170 votes in the Associated Press' mid century poll. Harold (Red) Grange, Illinois' galloping ghost of the mid-twenties was second with 138 votes.

Next came Bronko Nagurski of Minnesota, with 38 tallies, followed by Ernie Nevers of Stanford and Sammy Baugh of Texas Christian, each with seven votes.

Blackwell Ready For Big Comeback

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 25—(AP)—Ewell Blackwell, once the pitching pride of the Cincinnati Reds says he's ready for that big comeback in 1950.

Blackwell, knocked from his pitching pinnacle by illness and arm trouble in 1948 and a kidney operation in 1949, appears in top shape again.

He has been resting here for the past two months, fishing, hunting, swimming, playing golf and soaking up sunshine.

"IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD"

First Baseball Player Call Sent Out by Good Hope Boss

Nice weather outside...wanta play baseball?

Tom Smalley, manager of the Good Hope baseball team of the Southwestern Ohio League, has sent out a call for players.

Getting an early jump on the horsehide season, Tom said he will probably have his first practices toward the end of February or the beginning of March.

But anyone who wants to play baseball this summer should call 41672, after 5 P. M., or contact him at his home, 1227 South Main Street, said Tom.

The Good Hope team took second place in the SWO circuit the season before last and dropped to fourth place last year after a promising early-season start.

Tom said he expects about five or six players back from last year's squad and indications are that Alex Wackman might don a Good Hope uniform again. Alex was the sizzling southpaw hurler who led the league in strikeouts throughout the season.

"It's going to be a tough league this year," Tom said, "since there's a prospect of Bainbridge joining the SWO League."

So, if baseball's your game, Tom would like a call at 41672.

Easter Seen as Key To Indian Success

NEW YORK Jan. 25—(AP)—"The Cleveland Indians must be rated as the dark horses of the American League," said Marsh Samuel, press relations director of the tribe.

"The way we stand now," he continued, "we can finish anywhere from first to fifth. It all depends upon Luke Easter."

That seemed like a heavy load to place on the shoulders of a raw rookie with only 21 big leagues games to his credit, notwithstanding the fact that the muscular 6-4 Negro possesses perhaps the broadest shoulders in the Majors.

"Easter is no ordinary rookie," Samuel hastened to explain. "He is no callow youth, being in his late '20's. He's been playing ball a long time. And right now he's one of the most powerful hitters in the game."

"Everybody who has seen him play agrees that Easter can't miss becoming a great, not merely a good Major League player. Our scouts report he hits a ball as far as Babe Ruth ever did."

Ten Indians Sign Up But Lemon Still Out

CLEVELAND, Jan. 25—(AP)—Two Cleveland Indians were listed as hold outs today while 10 others had signed contracts in the hands of the management.

The pair who so far have refused to ink contracts are pitcher Bob Lemon and outfielder Bob Kennedy.

Lemon, honored Monday as the "man of the year" by Cleveland baseball writers, said yesterday: "I haven't signed. I'm still negotiating. There are some things we have to clear up, mainly money."

He won 22 and lost 10 last season for a pay check of around $25,000. Observers think he wants $5,000 for this year.

Next word will probably be from Long Beach, Cal., Lemon's home. The chucker is slated to return there this weekend.

Kennedy yesterday announced in Marion, O., that he has not signed the contract offered for 1950.

"There are still certain adjustments to be worked out before I sign," he added.

Those who have signed are pitchers Gene Bearden, Bob Feller, Lyman Lunde, Early Wynn, Al Aber, Al Benton, outfielder Dale Mitchell second baseman Bobby Wilson, shortstop Lou Boudreau, and Luke Easter, first baseman and outfielder.

Circleville Beats Chillicothe Again

The Circleville cagers whipped Chillicothe Tuesday night for the second time this season by a score of 57-45. That score came close to the previous one, which was 55-44.

In another match played Tuesday, Bexley sustained its seventh loss of the season to Grandview by a 46-34 score. Bexley, a team the WHS Lions will face in a few weeks, has won six games to date.

Crown Regained By Joey Maxim

English Champion
Kayoed in Tenth

LONDON, Jan. 25—(AP)—Fast-stepping Joey Maxim, not satisfied with winning the world's night heavyweight title, cocked an eye today at the heavyweight crown.

The 27-year-old boxing machine from Cleveland, Ohio, knocked out Freddie Mills of England in the 10th round last night to win back the championship for the United States.

Maxim's payoff blows that made a record indoor crowd of 18,000 roar was a stiff left jab to the face and a terrific right cross to Mills' jaw.

The victory redeemed the loss of the title here by America's Gus Lesnevich in the summer of 1948. Mills dropped the title last night in his first defense.

Kearns Ambitious

Wily Jack (Doc) Kearns, Maxim's manager, announced the new champion will go after the heavyweight title.

"Now that Joey has won the crown," Kearns said, "we'll stay over here to fight the winner of the Bruce Woodcock-Lee Savold fight in May. The British call this their version of the world's heavyweight championship, so we'll take a cut at that."

The U. S. National Boxing Association recognizes Ezzard Charles as the world's heavyweight champion.

"They have just as much right to put on the world's heavyweight championship here," Kearns said, "as the NBA has to call Charles the world's heavyweight champion."

In Cincinnati, Ohio, promoter Sam Becker said Maxim's first fight in the U. S. will be held there under his direction.

Becker said he plans to pit Maxim against Charles for the heavyweight title or against Archie Moore for the light heavy title. Charles decided Maxim in a 15 rounder at Cincinnati last February.

$206,000 in Red For Detroit Lions

DETROIT, Jan. 25—(AP)—Owners of the Detroit Lions disclosed officially last night that the club lost $206,000 in its last two years of national football league competition.

Edwin J. Anderson, president of the Parent Detroit Football Co., coupled this with a blunt warning that the club would have to get better support from the public this year.

New Holland Thumps Wayne by 63 to 34

In a game that had been heard as a toss-up, the New Holland Bulldogs crushed the Wayne Mad Anthony's, 63-34, at New Holland Tuesday night.

Coach Robert O'Brien's Bulldogs pulled away in the early minutes and the game was never in doubt as New Holland shook off the hex that had kept them from victory No. 13.

The Mad Anthony's couldn't find the bucket as they played off the regular form. Bill Anderson had an especially disappointing night, ringing up just nine points.

Meanwhile, Thacker and Gookey cut the cords, consistently for New Holland with 21 and 19 points, respectively.

New Holland got away to a 14-6 lead at the quarter and boosted this to 32-14 by halftime to put the writing on the wall for Wayne.

Both teams threw up a zone defense, but New Holland's proved the more effective since it troubled Anderson, Wallace and Davis, the three big guns of Wayne.

In the preliminary, the Wayne Reserves edged the New Holland Reserves in a thriller, 27-24.

Highest Paid Baseball Players Signed by Yankees and Dodgers

NEW YORK, Jan. 25—(AP)—New York's two pennant winners, the American League Yankees and the National League Brooklyn Dodgers—today had signed up the highest salaried players in their history.

For the second successive season, the Yankees yesterday signed Joe DiMaggio, their great outfield star, to a contract calling for an estimated $100,000. A few hours before DiMaggio accepted one of the highest salaries ever paid to a player, Jackie Robinson inked a Dodger pact calling for $35,000.

Branch Rickey, Dodger president, announced the Robinson signing following a short discussion of terms.

"Robinson will be the highest paid Dodger in my Brooklyn experience," he said. Rickey has been boss in Flatbush since the start of the 1943 season.

Wisconsin Youth Lead Cage Scorers With 480 Points

NEW YORK, Jan. 25—(AP)—Nate Delong, of River Falls (Wis.) teachers, tops the nation's college basketball scorers with 480 points in 19 games, but he is being pressed by George King of Morris-Harvey (W. Va.) and Ron Bontemps of Beloit.

King has tallied 440 points in 13 and Bontemps 430 in 18 games, a compilation by the Associated Press showed today. On an average point-per-game basis King has 33.9 to 25.0 for Delong and 23.9 for Bontemps.

Charley Share, of Ohio's Bowling Green Falcons, who tossed in 21 points last night against Dayton, ranks fourth with 385 points in 19 games, 94 behind Delong. Andy Taff, of Hanover (Ind.) is fifth with 378.

Lions Hear Legion Head

Also Set Plans for Approaching Banquet

Bruce Henderson, state commander of the American Legion, was the featured speaker at the meeting of the Lions Club at the Country Club, Tuesday night.

Introduced by Clarence Hackett, the evening's program chairman and past commander of the Legion post here, Henderson told of the Legion's stand against certain proposals of the Hoover Commission. The substance of his speech is given in a separate story on page 1.

The gathering of Lions heard Joe White, chairman, announce that February 7 will be the date of the annual fathers, daughters and sons banquet.

Paul Van Voorhis announced that the annual boy scout dinner was set for next Monday, and invited Lions to attend.

The Lions received a compliment in the invitation from the Fairborn Lions to send a team from here to install their officers on February 6.

Robert Minshall, chairman of the installation team, named Walter O'Brien, Harold McCord and A. E. Weatherly to the team for the Fairborn ceremonies. A number of other Lions also intend to make the trip.

There was a 73 percent attendance at the meeting, which was presided over by Ambrose Elliott, the president.

Dick Patton was introduced as a new Lion. Other guests welcomed to the meeting were Belmont McNoldy, Frank Reichelderfer and Kent Castor, district vice-commander of the American Legion from Chillicothe.

JUDGMENT FOR $646

After being out two hours Tuesday afternoon, the jury sitting in on the $10,146 damage case of Irene Kinnison against Clayton Whiteside, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, for $646.

The jury apportioned the amount as follows: $500 damages, plus $81, hospital expenses and $65 for medicine.

All of the jurors signed the verdict, which was reached after the jury had heard the evidence most of Monday and early Tuesday, and after the arguments had been made by John E. Bliss for the plaintiff and Reed M. Winegardner for the defendant.

The case grew out of an accident on Route 70, two miles southeast of Bloomingburg, Feb. 1, 1949.

SALE CONFIRMED

Depositions were being taken in the common pleas court room here Wednesday, in the case of the State of Ohio on relation of Elmer Kelley, against City Manager W. W. Hill and other city officials, filed in the court of appeals Dec. 15, 1947.

Kelley in his suit asked payment of $175 per month, starting Feb. 1947. He also asked to be reinstated as a patrolman on the Washington C. H. police force.

He claims he was deprived of his job unlawfully after having been named member of the police force.

John P. Case and Emory F. Smith represent Kelley, and W. W. Hill, as city solicitor, represents the defendants in the action.

Several members of the police force were among the witnesses whose deposition was being taken during the day.

Cases of Ptomaine Poisoning Reported

Residents of Fayette County had a warning Wednesday from the county health department to refrain from eating cream pies, chocolate eclairs and cream puffs for the time being.

Don Lange, county sanitarian, reported today that there have been a few cases of ptomaine poisoning reported in Fayette County. At least one such case is under a doctor's care, it was indicated.

Lange said an investigation was being made. He said unseasonably warm weather is believed to have caused the ptomaine poisoning.

One doctor here who asked anonymity, said two bakery truck drivers (he did not further identify their employer) had come to him Tuesday morning.

"They were both very sick men," the doctor said and added that he diagnosed their illness at the times as food poisoning. He said they told him they had been eating cream puffs.

The men, the doctor said, were "too sick to continue on their route" and were taken to their homes in Chillicothe.

It was considered possible that the illness of the truck drivers cut short deliveries of baked goods, including the suspected cream puffs, to stores in Washington C. H. and the village and rural sections of the county.

Terry White Taken To State Bureau

Terry White, 16, the boy reportedly responsible for the fire in the county jail, Saturday noon, was removed to the Bureau of Juvenile Research, in Columbus, Wednesday, in custody of Deputy Sheriff Charles Foster.

White was committed to the institution by Judge Rell G. Allen when the youth was brought before him on a charge of stealing a pistol. The boy had been in trouble before, police said.

White admitted placing used matches in a vent in his cell at the county jail, but said he had no intention of starting a fire.

Girl Known Here Attempts Suicide

Mrs. Roy Thompson, of Fayette County, has received word that her niece, Betty Lou Schwartz, 22-year-old former Columbus girl, who sings in New York under the name of Linda Lombard, at the famous Latin Quarter Night Club, is in a New York hospital.

Miss Schwartz, daughter of Raymond Schwartz, of Columbus, was found by repairmen who went to her New York apartment to fix a refrigerator, reports state.

She was removed to Bellevue Hospital, where her condition was reported very good sometime after she entered the institution.

Miss Schwartz was known as the "shapeliest singer" in New York.

Reports state that she had turned the kitchen stove jets on, then turned them off, in an attempt to end her life.

Mrs. Thompson, who could not be contacted Wednesday, wired the hospital asking complete information about her niece, it was reported.

Miss Schwartz started her singing and modeling career in Columbus. After appearing with several bands and in night clubs, she joined a USO troupe and sang for thousands of soldiers during the World War.

She was recently featured in a national magazine article.

CLEAN PLATE CLUB

There's at least one husband who leaves nothing on his plate; a Washington fellow likes his hard boiled eggs so well that he eats the shells too.

If this man were given some PENNINGTON ENRICHED BREAD, he'd enjoy it so much, no doubt he'd add some syrup and finish off the wrapper.
